On page 2-6, add note and change step 6 and replace steps 6-8 with steps 6-9:

Note

The FTDI Windows driver package is required for communication between Ansur and Fluke Biomedical products.

6. When the FTDI CDM Drivers window appears, click Extract, accept the license agreement and click Next.

    The package will install automatically.

7. Select Complete and click Next. Alternatively, select Custom to change the destination folder or to remove samples from the installation.

    Fluke Biomedical recommends the Complete option.

8. Click Install to begin the installation. A progress bar indicates the installion process.

9. Click Finish to complete the installation process.
